

REAL ESTATE INVESTING 360 CERTIFICATE

Program Description

Want to speak the language of real estate developers, investors, and property managers?

This program focuses on three key components of commercial real estate that are integral to understanding and navigating this fast-paced industry. You will first explore the development side of commercial real estate, where you will identify how to effectively manage development projects from conception to launch while maximizing value. You will then discover key tools and strategies to enhance your real estate finance and investment decisions and increase the value of your real estate holdings. Finally, you will become well versed in the critical aspects of property management, including property maintenance, leasing strategies, labor code, financial management, renovations, building systems, and sustainability. By the end of this program, you will have the tools and strategies to grow and manage a robust real estate portfolio.

Students will be most successful in this program if they have some familiarity with Microsoft Excel.
