

LEARNING WHERE YOU LIVE

Learning Where You Live (LWYL) courses are an initiative of the Office of the Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education, specially designed with a focus on building relationships with faculty, innovative teaching, and fascinating topics. Courses are taught on North Campus and West Campus as small, seminar-style classes that are offered for one credit and graded on an S/U basis. Explore LWYL courses, which are grouped under the subject code UNILWYL, and learn more about the LWYL initiative (<https://lwyl.cornell.edu/>).
