Program Description

The Department offers a Minor in Anthropology to undergraduate students in any college at Cornell. The Anthropology Minor is designed for students who want to engage with sociocultural anthropology, archaeological anthropology, or biological anthropology but cannot commit to a full academic major. No specific advisor is required; all departmental faculty are available to discuss students' plans for completing the Minor. Students can apply for the Minor at any time before the March 31st prior to their graduation. To be certified for the Minor, a student must submit a copy of their transcript and a completed Minor Course Plan (<https://anthropology.cornell.edu/anthropology-minor-course-plan/>) form to the Director of Undergraduate Studies by the deadline.

Minor Requirements

Specific criteria for the minor are:

- Completion of five Anthropology courses, worth 3 credits or more.

- Of the four additional courses, one must be at the 3000 level, and one must be a seminar at the 4000 level.
- No S/U classes will be accepted; all classes must be taken for a letter grade.
- Students must achieve a C- or better in all five courses taken to fulfill the minor.
- One of the courses for the minor may be taken as transfer credit and one may be taken through study abroad. A minimum of three of the five required courses must be taken at Cornell.
